Remember that fine little fellow, Jimmy Rose, who appeared on our program "The Editor Speaks" last week. Well, all week long we've had the picture of that youngster in our mind bringing us the most beautiful, the biggest, the most delicious devil's food cake you ever saw. The white icing was heaped on the cake like even snow-drifts on the house-tops. The proof of course was in the eating . . . and there, there was where the gratitude in our hearts matched the taste on our palate. It was a wonderful thought Jimmy, and frankly we didn't know you could cook that well. Did you know that, Mrs. Rose?

And speaking of boys, that 100 percent picture of American boyhood in the person of Jimmy Hogan is visiting his father, Happy Hogan in Fulton this week. Jimmy is a student at Sewanee Military Academy. Happy says when Jimmy was a tiny little fellow he would teach him how to box and to be most careful about protecting his face from an opponent's attack. Now, it is Happy who must protect himself, for one of the things that Jimmy loves the most is sports, and particularly boxing and he is certainly getting to be an expert at that. In a little sparring at home the other day, Papa Hogan certainly wasn't teaching that boy anything. It was Jimmy doing the teaching . . . and the slugging.

If you see Maestro Mac McDaniels with a serene look on his face these days, it's because he's practicing. Practicing? Yes, practicing, how to be the model husband, because there's a new doghouse at the McDaniels home on Norman and Mae is just trying to keep out of it. Of course, the doghouse is for pretty little Susan's favorite pet, but seems to us that thing is big enough to house the pet, and any visitors who might become eligible for living there.

Newspapering is a "chawming" business. The moments are never dull nor are the rarest incidents ever a surprise. Towit: One of our many correspondents told us the story about writing a good article on a particular service being rendered in her community. She mentioned a few of the names of the persons involved and thought that she had covered the situation fully. The next day after the appearance of the story, an irate member called and the conversation went something like this:

Irate lady: "I read that article you had in the paper about us and I want you to remember that I never want my name in your column."

Correspondent: "I don't remember putting your name in the paper, what are you talking about?"

Irate lady: "I know you didn't, but I never want my name in your column, do you hear me?"

Correspondent, getting a little irate too: "Look, I didn't put your name in the paper, if I ever do, then you'll have something to gripe about."

The moral of that story is: "Names make the news, omitted news make deflated egos."

Perhaps you have noticed lately that our community correspondents have been increasing in number; last week, with ten pages, we had so much "live" news to get in that we had to leave our own two columns (this one and Silhouettes) out for lack of room.

You who send us news each week will be interested in knowing that we have a rule here at our office that "anyone who takes the trouble to write us news of their community comes first," if we haven't room for all, we run yours and leave ours out.

If this week's paper is a little larger than usual, it is because the advertisers themselves have discovered that the intense readership we have gained is also providing a responsive audience for them. There are very few in Fulton who advertise, who do not use the News.

Mrs. Moore Joyner spent Tuesday in Memphis with relatives.

New Uniforms, Good Music Highlight Sunday Concert

If there was a lump in your throat and a mist in your eyes on Sunday afternoon at the High School auditorium . . . it belonged there! Only die-hards with no sentiment could keep from giving vent to their emotions as the youngsters of the Fulton schools paraded in their gleaming new uniforms, for those marching feet with musical rhythm were a monument to community spirit and a job well done. There were no die-hards there.

At the auditorium on Sunday the Fulton High School band appeared in concert for the first time in the new uniforms that dreaming brought. For years, new uniforms for the school band members were a dream but Sunday there was no dream but a reality.

At the close of the P.T.A. club year in 1948, Mrs. Leo Greengrass retiring president handed over to Mrs. Hendon Wright the new president, the books of the West Fulton organization. Recorded therein was the sum of $150, which had been set aside for new band uniforms to be someday purchased by the club. What had been the hope of Mrs. Greengrass, was the deed of Mrs. Wright and her efficient corps of workers. Approximately $3000 was raised to buy 52 uniforms with the coats purchased from the Baine Company and the pants made by the management employees of the Henry I. Seigel Company on their own time. Leo Greengrass manager of the Seigel plant, with a staff of workers, manufactured the pants with no charge to the Parent-Teachers or the school.

So it was a red letter day for the Greengrasses on Sunday as well as for all those who worked so hard for the uniforms. As if to show the school pa-

Robert Mazey Dead From Florida Race Injuries

The sympathies of an entire community are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Will McDade in the loss of her son-in-law, Robert Mazey who succumbed to injuries received in a motorcycle accident in Daytona Beach, Fla., Saturday morning. Mazey died in the Halifax Hospital in Detroit, his home.

The deceased, husband of the former Miss Frances Bushart, daughter of Mrs. Will McDade, was an avid motorcycle enthusiast and he and his wife have travelled extensively in this country using this mode of travel.

Mazey was participating in the motorcycle races in the Florida city when the accident occurred and was one of several injured in the accident. Others were not so seriously injured.

Surviving are his wife and his mother and stepfather of Detroit.

Horse Says He Will Attend VFW Show

"The smartest horse in the world" or the animal with the most horse sense has accepted an invitation to take part in the VFW's huge Army Day parade, Charles Dixon, parade marshal announced today.

H. B. Parker, of Metropolis, Ill., told the local veterans that the horse had been reading about the Army Day parade in the city papers and told him that he would very much like to perform here. The horse said, and the News takes Mr. Parker's word for it, that he will do a trick or two and maybe ten on Lake street in the morning of the parade.

Do you think its horse stuff for a horse to talk? Hmmpfh, wait till you see that horse.

From The Shores of Bremerhaven to This Promised Land Come Displaced Persons

Their passports were for Owensboro, but their hearts were for this promised land. That was the unwritten story that Vitaugas told a News reporter when interviewed in the railroad station here as they waited for the City of New Orleans to take them to the end of their journey from war-torn Lithuania to the rollings lands of Kentucky.

In halting English, learned from the American soldiers who liberated them from the displaced persons camp in Germany, the young man in his early twenties acted as spokesman for his parents who could speak not a word in the tongue of their adopted land.

It was a long journey that brought them from the shores of Bremerhaven to the hopes of America, where their harrowing years of concentration, displacement and confiscation remained only in their eyes . . . their hearts were full and fresh of love for the country that will give them freedom from fear.

It was in 1940 that Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Usas first felt the pangs of totalitarianism. It was that year that Dr. Usas, a noted eye, ear and nose specialist became the target of the Nazis because of his liberal views. His practice, his home, his belongings were confiscated by the "liberators" and his life and family were the prey of the Secret Police. It was because of the advent of the Russians in 1944 that they were sent to Vienna by the Germans as hostages and then sent to Eisenach where later Russia domination completed their lives

HIGH PRICED FISH

According to Tennessee State game and fish director Edward Tayloe, Paris, the price of peddling game fish in his area is going up.

Horace Crafton, Savannah, paid a fine of $10 apiece for selling 50 striped bass and one sauger pike he caught out of the Tennessee river about two weeks ago.

Human Foot Found In New IC Yards Thursday Morning

The gruesome discovery of a human foot, identified by officials of the Illinois Central Railroad as that of a woman, was made yesterday morning in the new I.C. yards by Paul Gholson a switchman. The foot, partly covered with a silk stocking was lying near the office of the short lead and found about 11:20 Thursday morning. Oliver Pigue special agent for the railroad said that no clues had been found, but it is generally believed that the limb may have been lodged underneath one of the many cars that came into the yard yesterday morning.

A train from Jackson and one from Memphis passed through the yards yesterday, and switch engines were busy most of the night and morning. It is generally believed that any one of the cars could have brought the limb into the yards and the impact of switching or motion could have dislodged the foot from beneath the trains. Of medium size, possibly size four or five, it was not known at press time whether or not rigor mortis had set in. It was taken to the clinic of Dr. D. L. Jones for examination. The foot was severed from the leg above the ankle.

Officials over the entire system of the IC, as well as officials of other companies have been notified of the discovery.

JEAN HYLAND ON AIR

Talented Miss Jean Hyland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hyland will appear as guest pianist over Station WENK tonight at 8:15 p.m. on the Fulton program "The Editor Speaks."

Local Schools To Be Evaluated By Seven Member Board of Educators

P's and Q's rather than three R's will predominate in the Fulton High School next week, for that's what the students and faculty will be watching when the seven-member evaluation board visits the local school system.

According to W. L. Holland, superintendent of the system, the group will arrive on Sunday afternoon and after a Sunday night dinner will start inspecting the physical facilities of the schools.

On Monday the board will inspect chapel procedure, classroom techniques from the teacher's and the student's standpoint, and evaluate the individual needs of the pupils. This inspection will continue until Tuesday.

The evaluation is a joint effort of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges and the Kentucky State Department of Education. The evaluation of the former group is to determine if the local school system meets the requirements for membership in that group.

Mr. Holland, stated that he was confident that the schools will meet all scholastic requirements but may have to be put on probation for the teachers' salary requirement. Last year with a little help from the State, the system was able to barely meet the ruling of $1600 per annum.

Adams, Wade, Barnett Elected Supervisors

Results of the election of three supervisors for the Fulton County Soil Conservation District has been announced by Henry Ward, chairman of the State Soil Conservation Committee.

Robert Adams, Joe Barnett and Jamie Wade being the candidates who received the largest number of votes, were declared by the committee to be the elected supervisors. These three men, with Chas. E. Wright and Clem Atwell, who were appointed, will constitute the governing board.

An organization meeting of the board will be held in the near future, after which a program and plan of operation for the district will be prepared.

PLANS LAID FOR CITIZEN'S HEALTH COMMITTEE HERE

At a meeting in the board room of the City National Bank on Monday, groundwork was laid for the organization here of a Citizen's Health Committee.

Based on a plan submitted by the State Department of health the committee will consist of approximately ten members and will have the representation of civic, medical and cultural groups in the entire county. The purpose of the committee is to represent the people in all matters of public health.

Fulton county has two public health nurses, whose duties are so varied and so scattered that the pressing demands of expanding health problems are difficult to administer. The Citizen's health committee will be an adjunct and a great assistance to the existing public health facilities in Fulton county.

Present at the meeting were the following: Judge Homer Roberts, who will officially name the members of the committee, Mrs. Hendon Wright, representing the P.T.A.; Mrs. Maxwell McDade, Woman's Club; G. Williamson, Chamber of Commerce; Maxwell McDade, Lions; Mrs. Ward Bushart, Hickman-Fulton Medical Society and Mrs. Paul Westpheling.

South Fulton Food Sale Put Off Until Next Week

Officers of the South Fulton Parent-Teacher Association have asked the News to announce that the food sale scheduled for this week-end, March 19, has been postponed until next week-end March 26.

A little longer in the making, much better the baking, so plan to do some week-end buying at the sale to be held in the vacant store next to Andrews Jewelry Co.

Cherry Blossoms No Match for Muddy Mississippi

By Mary Nell McDade Wright

The muddy Mississippi looked crystal clear to the Gerrishes a week ago. A year ago, even a tumbler full of that swirling, debris-infested water would have sparkled like champagne to this popular family of former Fultonians. The Gerrishes, have been in the Far East you know, and two years anywhere in the world is a mighty long time to be away from home and family. But they're here now and the events of those years of living are very pleasant only when re-centered for newspaper purposes.

Mrs. Gerrish is the former Charlotte Terry and her husband Lt. Richard E. Gerrish, and interesting family, Susan, and the twins, Terry and Dexter who were born in Japan arrived in the States on March 8, after 28 days from Hokiado, Japan . . . 28 days of sailing, but a million years of anxiety to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Terry of this city who met them at the dock in New Orleans. Lieutenant Gerrish is a member of the advance contingent of the 11th Airborne Division, which is quartering at Camp Campbell, Ky. While Lieutenant Gerrish is stationed at that Kentucky Camp Mrs. Gerrish and the children are visiting her parents. It was with infinite attention to detail that Mrs. Gerrish told of her life in Japan to a News reporter, (who incidentally was awfully glad to welcome them home).

It was with amusement that she told of her arrival at Camp Haugen on Honshu Island where they lived the first year. After travelling by boat and rail, her jeep-ride to her new home was with foreboding, for this new land to which she had come looked nothing like the Japan of her dreams, but rather like an Alaskan mining camp. There were no roads, just muddy lanes and all transportation was by the Army jeep. Camp Haugen had been a former Japanese Air Base. The area surrounding the camp was almost wholly untouched by the ravages of war, but not by capricious Mother Nature, whose six month winters feature snow storms at their very best. Six to eight feet drifts are not uncommon, and when congealed, are ice factories at peak capacities. Natives, cut the congealed drifts into blocks and haul them to the river. The long and furious winters have had their influences on the lives and habits of the Japanese. The children are expert skiers and most transportation in the winter is contingent upon ice-propelled vehicles such as sleds and skis.

But Spring comes as quickly as the snow congeals in sub-zero weather and in no time at all a lush growth springs up. It is a sight to behold to see the azalea covered mountains reaching into the heavens, she said.

After living on Honshu Island for a year the Gerrishes moved to Hokiado where they had a lovely two-story home at Camp Crawford. Servants were plentiful and the Gerrishes had three in their household. Their new residence was a western style city with modern business houses. American style purchases of food and clothing were common. Shopping on Hokiado was in contrast to that on Honshu were Montgomery Ward and Sears did a thriving business.

In Hokiado, being in the outlying provinces, the Gerrishes were able to be in attendance at the first personal tour of the Japanese emperor since he was dethroned. He travelled in an ornately painted red automobile of foreign-make and bullet-proofed for his safety. Japs within the entire area looked forward to the visit of their emperor and many stood for hours awaiting his arrival. Democracy has infiltrated the lives of the Japanese and the American custom of standing has replaced the prostrate bow to honor their distinguished officials. But a servant in the Gerrish household, a woman imbued with the same female curiosity the world over, related how her bow was not so low back in 1926, because she "peeped" and got a glimpse of the emperor.

While history has proven that domestic servants on Pearl Harbor were partly responsible for the sneak attack, the Gerrishes found no dissension in the ranks. Rather, the masses adore the American General MacArthur.

The natives in and around Hokiado wear Western-type clothes and most of the younger ones have attended American mission schools. The language is preponderantly English, though of the broken and pidgen variety. Susan, two and one-half year old daughter of the Gerrishes speaks this brand of Americana. American movies are widely

Candidates And Campaigns

Your News reporter took a jaunt to the county seat at Hickman last week. Even though the summer heat, with the inevitable political campaign a good distance away, there's always a campaign or a rumor of a campaign in the halls of the county courthouse. Rumor has it of course that the woods will be full of candidates this year, with the offices of county judge, sheriff, county clerk, magistrates and a host of others to be filled during the August primaries. Candidates who will file for the various offices are still in the barber shop and coffee shop rumor department, and only a very few have made the necessary applications of their real intent to run for office. It's a funny thing about politics and elections. A story was told to us once by a would be politician who had aspirations to be mayor of a little city in Mississippi.

He talked with his wife at the dinner table one night about his desire to be a public official. His wife said dutifully, "I think you can be elected." Well, the would-be mayor got to thinking about the situation and went downtown to the barber shop and told his barber "a person told me I could be elected mayor." The barber too agreed, and while he sat in the barber's chair listening to the hum of the electric razor he conjured up all sorts of delusions about his possibilities of being mayor and the more he thought about it, the more convinced he was that the town was waiting for him as the saviour of the city.

It was the would-be mayor who kept saying that folks wanted him to be mayor, so much so, that he finally believed it himself. He announced for the office . . . and that wonderful ad with the big type just gave him the necessary vigor to really convince him that the world was waiting for him as the mayor of all time.

Came election day and the counting of the votes . . . and lo and behold the final tally, the books closed, and the ballots sealed . . . and there in simple black and white was the horrendous realization that Joe Doe, the great mayor, the saviour of the people had received 18 votes.

We told you this little story because we are reminded of it many times when we hear the names of some citizens who are planning to run for office this year.

We believe that for the first time in many years the people of Fulton County are becoming aware of the importance of competent, honest and capable public officials. While the year is still young, and the campaign still younger, we feel that issues rather than personalities are going to determine the election to many county offices. A public office is a sacred trust. A public official is the guardian of the voters and his welfare. And if what we are told is anywhere near the truth, a candidate who announces for public office this year is going to show his wares before he gets the "X" mark by his name.

A Home Can Influence The World

Recently, at a convention, delegates were discussing the world's need for democracy. Far off in a corner of the big room sat a woman—one of America's thousands and thousands of housewives. But this woman was different. Quietly she listened to what the others had to say about democracy. Their ideas seemed confused and superficial.

Finally she stood up, and with pounding heart and shaking knees she suggested to the chairman that it might be well to define democracy. Over the room ran a murmur of surprise; and after the delegates volunteered halting, confused terms and definitions, the simple little housewife rose a second time and said: "It is interesting to note that while many definitions have been submitted, not one has included the basic idea which the Founding Fathers of our country considered so important that they put it right in the very beginning of the Declaration of Independence. Namely, that each individual man, woman and child receives his rights from God, not from the State; and that the only purpose of the State is to protect and respect those God-given rights."

All the delegates applauded. In one simple statement she had distinguished between Christian democracy and pagan totalitarianism.

How many of us have ever tried to do anything like that? Yet, there are a thousand ways in which we can influence the world from our home. One housewife recently wrote an article on the sacred character of sex for a widely-circulated women's magazine, though she had never before written for the general public. Another woman has cleaned up the school board in her city; a third is a zealous worker in the national program of the Girl Scouts; another woman is encouraging her son to take up his life work in federal government; and so on.

Little Difference

Dr. Willard C. Rappleye, dean of the Faculty of Medicine at Columbia University, recently said that there is little difference between a doctor under socialism and a doctor under fascism. All socialized medical plans, he added, lead toward mediocrity and ultimate destruction of medical education and practice.

It has been said that under this sort of system the masses of people become second-class patients—patients who get second-rate attention, because of the impossibility of the job confronting the doctor. That accurately sums up the case against socialized or government-dominated medicine.

by ALICE AND ME

Lewis Carroll, the English writer of "Alice in Wonderland," would probably wonder what this modern world had come to if he could open the pages of one of our ladies' magazines and see that a leading play-shoe designer had boldly named a shoe JABBERWOCKY. If I remember — said JABBERWOCKY goes like this;

"'Twas brillig, and the slithy toves
Did gyre and gimble in the wabe:
All mimsy were the borogoves,
And the mome raths outgave."

If you are ready to start housecleaning, before you climb that ladder, read this: We call home Man's Castle yet it is still the scene of one of the greatest number of disasters. In 1947 there were 34,500 fatal accidents and more than five million injuries.

Have you ever thought how many bits of destructive malice are delivered quite casually, with no intent to harm. Often it's just chatter to fill in time interestingly, but peoples lives have been wrapped and poisoned by them.

If you have fragile fingernails, medical authorities are hoping that DL-M ethionine, one of the vital Amino Acids in the diet may do the trick.

Something to delight a child's heart, particularly at a party, is a ball of vanilla cream with features painted on with melted chocolate. With a cone hat, there's the funniest clown you've ever seen.

In a recent magazine there appeared an editorial called "Hitting the High Note" by Henry Steele Commager, a professor of history at Columbia University and world authority on American history who believes we can help to overcome our feeling of insecurity and get our feet on more solid ground if we would spend a little more time reading American history. He said: "Rarely has there been so much ticket-splitting; rarely have voters made their will known on men and issues so unmistakably as they displayed in last November's election. A people that can exercise the franchise as boldly and independently as the American people did in this election should not be lacking in self confidence. America was born on revolt through a series of reforms. If we remain true to our selves, to our past, to our heritage, to our principles of tolerance, we have no need to confess fear for the present or the future. It is still true, as Franklin Roosevelt said: "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself." It is true, as Lincoln said: "We can nobly save or meanly lose the last best hope of earth." So —brush the dust off that old American History on the top shelf in your closet.

The six good American women pianists, Ray Lev, Rosalyn Tureck and Muriel Keer in their early thirties, and Eunice Podis, Maro Ajemian and Constance Keene in their middle twenties are at long last winning the battle of prejudice against the American girl at the keyboard.

From the Crutchfield news in the Fulton Advertiser January 5, 1929 we found this:

The Misses Rossie and Bobbie Jackson entertained a number of their friends. Those present were: Misses Hilda Edwards, Adina Belew, Gertrude Howard, Mary Nugent, Lorene Hodges, Ora Seat and Willie Ruth Turner. The day was joyfully spent with lots good to eat.

Alice and I are remembering several years ago when a well known Fulton hostess planned an evening bridge party. Now this lady wanted all the candles, flowers and so forth that make a party a party, so—she drives out into the country and by the roadside gathers enough orange colored Day Lillies to give her home that festive air. Were you a guest in Ethel Freeman's home on that memorable night and saw what happened to the Day Lillies?

Sinus trouble can be just as hard on turkeys as it on human beings, a current veterinary bulletin reveals. The bulletin describes an outbreak of sinusitis in which nearly a thousand turkeys on a Missouri farm, all about 2 months old, were stricken. Swelling appeared on one or both sides of the head and around the eyes, and the birds went off feed and lost weight.

Write Patricia Latane to Solve Your Problems

Dear Patricia:

When will my baby be born? Will it be a boy or a girl? Will it be healthy? Is my husband very fond of me? Will I always be happy? Will my urge to save money be worth while?

P.S.—I hope to see this in print soon.
B.J.M.

Dear B.J.M.:

It will be born 10 days later than you have counted. It will be a boy, and will be healthy. Yes, your husband is in love with you and you will always be happy. Yes, by all means try to save money it will be to your advantage. You have a bright future ahead of you and those dark clouds will finally disappear.

Dear Miss Latane:

I am worried. I have had three doctors examine me and they don't tell me the same thing. I am about to give up. Will I ever get well? Is there anything for me to hope for and what must I do?
M.W.

Dear M. W.:

Yes, don't ever give up. You will get well. Doctors are like women and their flowers. What you would call one flower. I would call some other name. If it was all boiled down it maybe wouldn't be either. My advice is take some good doctor. For instance, some of our most well-known doctors are in Memphis and St. Louis. Pick one of these and go to him. See what he tells you and then do it and stop going to every doctor you hear about. Just take one and do what he tells you to do. You will get well.

Dear Patricia:

Can you answer a few questions for me? Where are my husband's fishing boats? When will I get to go home? Will my trip do me a lot of good or will it be money wasted? What will my husband's new job be?
D.R.

Dear D. R.:

It looks to me like he sold those fishing boats. Will you kindly send me a sample of his writing. I can tell more about it. You will go home in July. The trip will do you more good than a doctor can do for you. His new job won't be anything if he doesn't try a little harder to get one.

Dear Patricia:

Please answer the questions for me? Does the boy I go with now really like me? Will I ever go with the boy I like so well again? What happened to him? Who will I marry if I ever do marry?
J.M.

Dear J.M.:

Yes, the boy you go with now likes you but you don't care for him like you should. No, you will never go with the boy you like as he doesn't give a darn about you. Why don't you wake up. He is married. You will marry but not soon. The boy will be a stranger and you will only know him about 3 months when you up and marry.

Dear Miss Latane:

I have read your answers to some letters and I find it most interesting. I decided I would write and ask you a few questions, here's hoping you can give me a good answer. This is my first time to write, well, here goes. I received a most insulting letter a few days ago. I can't imagine anyone sending a letter like that. I mean I don't know of an enemy. The letter had no name signed to it and was post marked in Fulton. What I would like to know is who sent this letter.
A.P.

Dear A. P.:

You know the woman that wrote it, and you know the reason this person wrote this letter. The thing for you to do is talk to her in person and tell her all is fair in love and war.

Dear Patricia:

Can you tell me if my husband and I will ever own a home of our own? Will I ever have enough property that will be much help to me or what will become of it? Will my husband and I continue to work and live as we are at present for a length of time? Will I continue to work at my present job the rest of the year?
T.W.

Dear T.W.:

Yes, you will continue on the job you are now on for some time. Yes, you will own your own home. No, you will not fall heir to anything of value. There will be a change in your living condition in the next 6 months. What you are think on falling heir too is wished to some woman and will never do you any good. You just as well forget it and not make any plans as to this.

Dear Miss Latane:

Please tell me if you think my son and wife who are separated will go back together and when? Do they really love each other? Do you think he has been true to her?
E.W.

Dear E. W.:

No, they will not go back together as they don't love each other like they should. No, he hasn't been true and neither has she. The best thing you can do is to let them run their own lives and you stay out of it, as you can't tell them how to live and be happy. So, just keep your nose in your own affairs and out of theirs and let them work out their own problems.

Miss Latane:

I am hoping you can tell me where I can find my pen. I would appreciate it very much. R.B.L.
Dear R.B.L.:

Your pen was lost in a blue car. I don't think you will ever hear from it again as it was riding on the running board. It was either picked up or fell off, but I don't see anyone picking it up that would return it to you.

Mrs. Carroll Johnson returned home Saturday from Memphis where she has been a patient in the Baptist Hospital.

MENU FOR HOGS

A pig's dietary needs are on a much higher plane than most people think, a newly issued veterinary bulletin reveals.

Included on the daily menu for hogs are at least 8 different vitamins, 10 minerals, most of the amino acids contained in meat and vegetable protein, plus fats, carbohydrates, and green roughage.

Failure of many swine growers to supply these essentials
—through use of grains, hay, pasture plants, and protein concentrates—accounts for a considerable portion of the heavy losses in pig production, the bulletin declares.

COUNTY CITIZENS ARE HONOR PUPILS

Two hundred and forty-two students are listed on the honor roll for the first semester at Murray State college, according to Mrs. Cleo Gillis Hester, registrar.

One hundred and seventy-seven of the honor students are Kentuckians, with 65 from other states. In order to be named on the honor roll a student must have a standing of 2.2 or better.
A perfect standing is 3.00.

Honor students from this county are: Lawrence Cardwell, Jr., Harry Donald Davis, William Lloyd Grymes, James James, Anabel Waters Jones, Ivan Meshack
Jones, Erl Sensing, Mary Louise Simons, Lawrence Tully and Evelyn Robey Walters.

Tell Value Of Urea For Cattle Feeding

Urea is a valuable protein substitute in rations for cattle and sheep, but poisoning may result when large amounts are fed for extended periods.

This is the verdict of Oklahoma livestock health investigators, as reported in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Steers force-fed very large amounts of urea developed muscular tremors, gasped, frothed at the mouth, and died in less than two hours. The investigators pointed out, however, that there is little likelihood cattle will willingly consume enough of this chemical to suffer fatal illness.
The animals don't object to small servings of this substitute feed—safe amounts such as are generally recommended — but they may shun feed heavily fortified with the chemical.

The AVMA journal said urea acts as a protein-saver in rations by causing bacteria naturally present in the rumen to multiply and build their own protein, which is then digested by the animal. Ammonia is produced in the process of urea breakdown in the rumen. Small amounts of ammonia are not harmful, but large amounts that accumulate from excessive urea feeding cause chronic or acute poisoning.

Sudden change of feed may make cows more susceptible to mastitis.

Liming IS PROFITABLE

There are any number of reasons why the application of agricultural limestone should be a regular practice on every farm. But the most important reason of all is that liming makes money.

Most Agricultural Experiment Station reports show that the regular application of agricultural limestone results in much larger yields of better crops than where no lime is used. Depending on the type of soil and the crop or crop rotation, these authoritative reports show that every dollar invested in limestone returns from $3.00 to over $10.00.

You can greatly increase the earning power of your farm by using our limestone regularly.

CO-OP MEMBERS MEET IN MAYFIELD

A warning on declining business activity and farm income was posted for local board members of Southern States Cooperative attending an annual mid-winter regional conference Thursday, March 10, at the Coral Room Hall Hotel, Mayfield, Ky.

"While there is no fear of any deep depression in the near future, the danger signals are out and it is necessary that we as individuals and as an organization adjust our operations to take into account these changing conditions." That statement was made in a report on Southern States for the first half of the fiscal year, by Howard G. Crist, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., director of Feed Distribution for the Cooperative.

Attending the conference were local Southern States representatives from the following communities: La Center, Murray, Clinton, Hickman, Fulton, Benton and Paducah.

A. H. Calvert of Mays Lick, Ky., a member of the Southern States Board of Directors presided at the session, which also was attended by several agricultural workers as guests of Southern States, and by managers of Cooperative service agencies in the area.

POULTRYMEN WARNED OF NEW CHICK DISEASE

Poultry growers are urged to watch their flocks for signs of an apparently new disease that strikes chicks under four weeks of age, killing many. Growth failure, rough feathering, and extreme brittleness of wing feathers are the principal symptoms. In some cases, scabs form around the mouth and eyelids. Veterinarians say little is known about the cause of the malady or how it spreads, but that movement of affected birds to range or to other quarters usually aids their recovery. Up to now, the disease has not been reported outside of New York State, but authorities believe it may spread elsewhere.

DAIRYMEN CAUTIONED

Thyroprotein, a thyroid-gland stimulant that steps up lactation and butterfat production of cows, is believed to have certain long-range disadvantages that may outweigh its immediate advantages. For this reason, veterinary authorities are warning dairy farmers to use it with caution, if at all.

There is no scientific basis for feeding minerals to prevent bloat in cattle and sheep.

NUCOA ready to use!

SAVE TIME—"BOWL-MIX" TWO POUNDS TOGETHER
(And save money—no extra cost tacked on for a "squeeze bag")

"It's a waste of money," thousands of women tell us, "to pay two to three cents extra for margarine in a 'squeeze bag.'"

What you really want, of course, is to buy yellow margarine at the modest price it can be made for you, right in the churn—when the law permits! Until then, the makers of NUCOA refuse to add one penny of trick-package cost to this top-quality margarine.

And money isn't the only saving! With NUCOA's easy "bowl-mix" you can save time and bother by coloring two pounds together, make it just the degree of yellow you like; mold it in balls, squares or other shapes to suit your taste.

"And it colors so much more evenly!" women say.

Millions agree! Ask your grocer for NUCOA—America's most popular margarine.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 20, 1949.
The Golden Text is: "Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel." (Jer. 3:23).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Every man is brutish in his knowledge; every founder is founded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, and the work of errors." (Jer. 10:14, 15).

THREATENS OFFICER; FINED $200 & COSTS

Everett Hibbs, Providence, was fined a maximum of $200 and costs in the court of Judge Justin Logan, Madisonville, on January 25 on a charge of intimidating a Division of Game and Fish Conservation Officer.

The defendant pleaded guilty when brought into court by Conservation Officers Clark Bailey, Central City, and J. B. McClain, Dawson Springs, after being sighted hunting in a field on January 22 and had pointed a shotgun at Bailey when the latter attempted to arrest him for hunting out of season.

McClain reported that he and Bailey were looking for duck hunters when they sighted Hibbs and a companion, E. E. Wade, in a field near Madisonville. When Bailey approached the men, McClain declared, Hibbs leveled his gun at the Conservation Officer and refused to give his name. In the meantime, McClain said he circled the hunters and when

THERE IS AN EXCEPT FLY FISHERMAN (NAME UNKNOWN) IN SAN PEDRO, CALIF., WHO MADE A CAST INTO L.M. WHITE'S TOURIST COURT ROOM, FLICKED OUT HIS WALLET.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

We long have suspected that bait casting is America's most popular method of sport fishing, and now we have the proof. A recent survey, conducted by a magazine with nation-wide circulation and projected over 300,000 active fishermen, disclosed that 67 per cent or 261,000 of these fishermen were bait casters.

Active fishermen, too, have learned that variety of fishing methods adds luster to the sport for only 33,000 or 11 percent of the anglers covered in the survey reported they used only one fishing technique in trying to outwit the finny gamesters. And even in this comparatively small group bait casting outranked the runner up fly fishing method two to one.

It is apparent that fly fishing and bait casting go hand in hand as a perfect combination for 198,000 (66 per cent) of the vast army of fishermen covered said they did some fly casting. Still fishing, the centuries-old style of fishing ranked third with 57 per cent, followed by trolling with 55 percent and spinning with 17 per cent. Spinning has been popular in England and Europe for many years, but it has been a development in America in the last decade. And it is gaining annually on the other sport fishing methods.

The comprehensive survey also showed that the species of fish most popular with the greatest number of anglers are in direct ratio to their distribution in America's streams, rivers and lakes.

Of the fishermen queried, 276,000 or 92 per cent said they fished for bass. And that is logical for bass are found in all 48 states much of Mexico and in many parts of Canada. Panfish (crappies, bluegills and other sun-

NEW CRAPPIE DAILY CREEL LIMIT: 30

The daily creel limit for crappie (or newlight) fish has been increased from 15 to 30 and the possession limit on the second day in succession of fishing has been boosted from 30 to 60, Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish announced today.

The change was made, with the concurrence of the Kentucky Game and Fish Commission, after it was found by Division personnel that the increase in this type fish in Kentucky waters warrants such action. The authority to make changes in creel and bag limits and dates for hunting and fishing was granted the director and the Commission under the Kentucky Revised Statutes 150.025, subsection 4 of House bill 283 which was approved by the 1948 General Assembly.

Last year the size limit was removed from this species of fish, Mr. Wallace reminded, and points out that the new regulation applies to the entire state but affects only the crappie (or newlight) species.

fish) with as wide a geographical distribution as bass ranked second with 66 per cent or 198,000 of the fishermen including panfish in their sport.

The steam species of trout, including the rainbow, brown, brook, cutthroat and others, was third with 52 per cent. Northern pike nosed out the walleye for the fourth spot on the hit parade 37 to 35 per cent, with the lake trout a target for 15 per cent of the fishermen and the muskellunge sought after by 11 per cent.

We are going to send our private agents out to check the results of the survey, however, that shows 31 per cent of these fishermen finding time to follow their favorite outdoor sport between 50 and 100 days a year.

LAW ON SEINING GIVEN FISHERMEN

Seines with a mesh of not less than two inches and hoopnets without wings may be used by commercial fishermen in the navigable streams of Kentucky, Earl Wallace, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, announced today. He also stated that hoopnets with wings may be used by these fishermen in the Mississippi river. The Director warned that a commercial license fee is $5 to a state resident and $25 for a non-resident and declared that all seines and nets must be tagged with metal tags, cost of which is $1 for each net and $2 for each 100 feet of seine for state residents. For non-residents, it was pointed out, the cost for each 100 feet of seine is $4, while tags for each hoopnet cost $2 each.

Mr. Wallace reminded commercial fishermen that the nets and seines may not be used in all parts of Kentucky streams. In explaining this he referred to the following regulations.

Hoopnets without wings and seines may not be used within 200 yards of the mouth of any stream entering the navigable waters, nor within 200 yards of the mouth of any navigable stream, nor nearer than 700 yards below the Gilbertsville Dam on the Tennessee river, nor within 200 yards of any lock or dam located on a navigable stream, nor above the last lock and dam up any navigable stream. Only fish not protected by law may be taken in this manner. "Navigable waters" means any waters within this state under lock and dam.

Mrs. Hubert Jaco has been appointed chairman in Fulton county of the Annual Easter Seal Sale and membership drive, conducted by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children which will be held from March 28th through April 17th (Easter Sunday). The goal is $175,000 to continue the established program of this 26th year of the organization.

Serving again as State Chairman is Sidney Rosenblum, Louisville, Society's vice president, who headed last year's campaign in Kentucky. Mrs. Wm. T. Ingram 11, also of Louisville, is co-chairman.

"In our county," said Mrs. Jaco "There have been 138 cases examined and 77 cases treated by the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission. Easter Seal money, by supplementing Commission funds, helps make this program fuller."

Alcoholic Anonymous Operating Full Group

In spite of erroneous reports circulated around town to the effect that the local group of Alcoholics Anonymous has disbanded, officials of the group stated that the organization was operating at full capacity and still doing the remarkable work for which they were organized.

An interesting note regarding the organization was that several in the group were enjoying more than eighteen months of sobriety as a result of the AA program.

The box number is 429 and meetings are held each Tuesday night at the Earle Hotel.

DAIRYING STORY OF MID-SOUTH IS TOLD IN BOOKLET

The success story of dairying in the Mid-South-Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana—is told by the Illinois Central Railroad in an attractive booklet just off the press and ready for free distribution.

Entitled "Dairy Opportunities in the Mid-South," this booklet is issued by the Agricultural Department of the railroad under the supervision of P. R. Farlow, general agricultural agent, Chicago 5. It features the profits to be made in the production of milk, butter, ice cream and cheese.

The slogan of the booklet is "Prosperity follows the dairy cow." Dairying, according to Mr. Farlow, has proved one of the most stable and gainful of farm enterprises—one that has stood the test of depression and emerged with cash income exceeding that from all other farm marketing.

"The favorable climate and pastures of the Mid-South are made to order for dairy farming," says Mr. Farlow. "Purebred sires have been provided by the Illinois Central as an incentive to the raising of better-producing herds."

Desirable methods of managing farms and herds are described in the booklet, and typical success stories are reported in detail. The railroad's additional aids to her development and product marketing are outlined.

While glancing through the local paper last week I noticed a World War II veteran had been killed by a hit and run driver. The awful tragedy lingered in my mind and I must say I feel sorry for the guilty person. I am sure his conscious is giving him a good whipping where ever he may be.

Several weeks ago a fine old friend of mine was run down by a hit and run driver. Fortunately he is recovering but he has suffered great pain. Two girl friends were also hit by a hit and run driver. Fortunately this driver was captured after a long chase. What happened to him? I wonder.

I am not a poet but I am passing along a poem to all my fine friends who are fortunate enough to own a car.

A car is fine to have. As long as you use it right. Drive it a little in the day. And not so much at night. Cars are dangerous things. Your life is always in your hands. So why act a fanatic in it? Drive it like a man.

People are being killed every day. Because someone is breaking the rule.

So please be a little more careful. And quit driving like a fool.

Guess some of us had better start walking.

Did you know? "Lift Every Voice and Sing" is the Negro National Anthem.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Sometimes good reading matter is found in advertisements. For instance, a well written little booklet on grass farming sent to farmers by a fence manufacturer, Continental Steel. And here are some quotations from it. The prices given may be current but the figures serve the purpose.

"Neither man nor nature has found a better weapon against waste of soil and water than good grass. Grass anchors soil against erosion. It helps the land soak up and hold water. Its blades and stalks are countless tiny dams to the downhill flow of rain. Grass makes running water creep; slow water does little damage. Soil conservationists recommend pasture as an important part of every farmer's conservation program. They urge the use of grasses and legumes regularly in crop rotations and strip cropping. In an erosion test a field of grass lost only 9 percent of its rainfall and one-third of a ton of soil per acre. A similar field, bare of vegetation, lost 31 percent of the rainfall and 113 tons of soil per acre during the same period.

"There's a considerable saving in labor when livestock harvest their own feed in the form of pasture, not to mention the saving in power and machinery compared to that required for cultivated crops. Pasture is the cheapest source of feed. Figures collected by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture in 16 states show that for each 100 lbs. of digestible nutrients obtained from pasture, the cost was 64c; for alfalfa hay, 83c; for corn, $1.38; and for oats, $2.02.

Simple scours in baby pigs can be traced to filth on the sow's udder, to improper feeding of the sow, or to chilling of the pigs due to a sharp drop in temperature.
